be instituted no later than two (2) years and one (1) day from the day notice has been given that the claim has been disallowed.

When determined by the carrier to be a necessary part of the investigation, the following may be required:

- (1) Original Freight Bill and Bill of Lading. When claimant cannot furnish these documents, the carrier may require suitable indemnity from the claimant.
- (2) When the property involved in the claim has not been invoiced to the consignee or where invoice does not show price or value, documentation to establish invoice value in the of the quantity shipped and certification of the correctness thereof.
- (3) When an asserted claim for loss cannot be otherwise authenticated upon investigation, a certified statement from the consignee of the shipment that property has not been received from any other source.

Carrier will not pay any claim filed for uncertain amounts, such as "$100.00 more or less". Carrier will make every effort to determine the condition of the shipment involved and will ascertain as nearly as possible the extent, if any, of the loss or damage for which it may be responsible.

Carrier will acknowledge claim in writing with thirty (30) days after receiving claim, informing the claimant of an identifying number assigned to the claim, and will pay, decline with proper authority or make a firm compromise offer within one hundred twenty (120) days after receipt of claim, except that if claim cannot be disposed of within this period, carrier will at that time and at the end of each succeeding sixty (60) day period thereafter while claim is pending, inform the claimant in writing of the reason for failure to conclude the claim.

A separately maintained number file will be established for each claim filed in accordance with the provisions of this Item. All documents, records and correspondence pertaining to the claim will be identified with the file number.

When investigation of a claim develops that one or more carriers have been presented with a similar claim on the same shipment, the carrier investigation such claim will communicate with each of the other carrier and, prior to any agreement entered into between or amount them as to the proper disposition of such claim, will notify all claimants of the overlapping claim, and will require further substantiation on the part of each claimant of his title to the property involved in such claim.

LAND SPAN, INC.Item 130INSPECTION OF FREIGHT BEFORE OR AFTER DELIVERY

When offering a shipment for delivery, if any portion of shipment appears to have been pilfered, a joint inventory of contents must be made by carrier and consignee and the results of inventory so noted on carrier's delivery receipt or Bill of Lading.

When damage to contents of a shipping container is discovered by consignee, which could not have been determined at time of delivery, it must be reported to carrier and a request for inspection by carrier (or its authorized agent) made. Notice of loss or damage and request for inspection may be given by telephone or in person, but in either event, must be confirmed in writing. If more than fifteen (15) days pass between date of delivery of shipment and date of report of loss or damage, and request for inspection by consignee, it is incumbent on the consignee to offer reasonable evidence to carrier when inspection is made that loss or damage was not incurred by the consignee after delivery of the shipment by carrier. While awaiting inspection by carrier, the consignee must hold the shipping container and its contents in the same condition they were in when damage was discovered.

Inspection by carrier (or its' authorized agent) will be made as promptly as possible after receipt of request by consignee. Inspection will be made within five (5) working days after receipt of request, excluding Saturdays, Sundays and legal holidays. A day will be considered as passing of twenty-four (24) hours from 8:00AM local time from the date of receipt of the request for inspection. Inspection by carrier (or its' authorized agent) will include examination of the damaged merchandise, the shipping container, and any other action necessary to establish all facts. If a shortage is involved, inspector will check contents of package with invoice, weigh the shipping container and its contents, or conduct any other type of investigation necessary to establish that a loss has occurred. In either case, inspection will be limited to factual report. Consignee must cooperate with carrier (or its authorized agent) in every way possible to assist in the inspection. A written record of findings will be made at least in duplicate. The original of the report will be given the consignee for claim support. Any inspection report issued must be incorporated in claim file.

In the event carrier (or its' authorized agent) does not make an inspection, the consignee must make the inspection and record all information to the best of his ability. Consignee's inspection will be considered as the carrier's inspection and will not jeopardize any recovery the consignee is due based on the facts contained in the report.
